Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 02 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Becoming unseasonably cold by Monday, with a chance of snow.

This Evening and Tonight:
A fine and dry evening with variable amounts of cloud. The cloud will become more extensive later in the night, keeping temperatures above freezing although it'll still feel cold, particularly along the east coast. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Saturday:
Dry but rather cloudy on Saturday morning. Some breaks will develop later, allowing increasing amounts of sunshine, particularly in western areas. Remaining cloudy and feeling chilly along coastal areas. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Patchy frost then largely sunny on Sunday. Becoming increasingly windy later, with overnight rain. Monday and Tuesday much colder with occasional snow showers, particularly in East Anglia. Coastal gales.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.